On Time Logistics hires new Director of Operations Tim Ray has more than 15 years of logistics experience

SPRINGDALE—Tim Ray, a long-time logistics professional, joined the On Time Logistics team as Director of Operations in July, the company announced recently.

“I’m looking forward to working with the people here, and growing the company forward,” he said.

Ray, a graduate of Fayetteville High School and the University of Arkansas (Fayetteville), comes to On Time Logistics from Airways Freight Corporation in Fayetteville where he worked for 15 years. During that time, Ray worked as Account Manager for the International Division including handling LCL (Less than Container Load), FCL (Full Container Load), and Ro-Ro (Roll On/Roll Off) freight. His department was an NVOCC (Non-Vessel Owning Common Carrier), working with VOCC (steamship lines), international clientele, and domestic tradeshow deliveries.

“I’ve handled everything from a small pop-up booth from China to Multi-level 20,000 square-foot booth and machinery container shipments, worked with U.S. Customs on import and documentation, and assisted with bringing the Volvo Ocean Race to Miami in 2012,” Ray said.

In his new position at On Time Logistics, Ray will play an important role in planning and coordinating the recruitment of independent contractor partners. This includes orientation and training of the roles and responsibilities for OTL team members. He will also oversee dispatch including order placements and customer care, as well as the warehouse management.
